

Dr. Adams is a skilled professional with twelve years of experience in public administration, including the higher education, local and federal government areas. She has demonstrated success in recruiting, strategic planning, program management, operational management, training and development and leadership. Dr. Adams is skilled in fostering collaborative partnerships with government stakeholders, colleges, business community and internal partners.

Dr. Adams is also a Certified Training and Development Professional by the Jack and Patti Phillips Workplace Learning and Performance Institute.