

DISSERTATION TITLE:

Workplace Health Promotion Program at a

Dr. Harbin is a community servant leader with a mission to transform distressed communities in the Mississippi Delta. She has been involved with various community projects since the fall of 2003: Improving Healthcare Access in the Mississippi Delta, Business Development and Retention Program, and Youth Entrepreneurial Program to name a few. She has served as the Director of Central Mississippi Community Action Agency, Program Director for the Youth Civic Action Program at Delta State University, Program Director for the Delta Business Institute of Health at Delta State University, and is currently directing the Debt Education for Business Transformation and Sustainability (DEBTS) at Delta State University.