

Jena is a dedicated educator, teaching 2nd grade for the Jackson County School District. She has a strong commitment to sharing her love of learning. Jena believes education is a gift, and admits she is drawn to a lifelong journey of learning. That is why she decided to pursue her doctoral degree in Human Capital Development (ITD emphasis) this year. Jena is thankful for the supportive staff at the University of Southern Mississippi and to all of her professors who have encouraged her throughout the process.

- Instructional Technology
- Design and Adaptation of ITD Principles
- Educational Research and